

Executive Summary

Average Class Size Report

Fall 2006

- At the undergraduate level, the overall average class size has decreased from Fall 2005 (41.5) to Fall 2006 (40.6). When taking course delivery mode into consideration, the class size decreases by 1.3 students per lecture course and by 0.2 students for labs.
- Overall average class size (undergraduate) varies among the TAMU schools and colleges: from the highest average class size of 72.9 students per section for Mays Business School, to the lowest average class size of 30.8 students for College of Engineering.
- The overall class size at the graduate level has increased slightly from Fall 2005 (14.8) to Fall 2006 (15.3), with a 0.6 student per section increase in the average lecture size and no change in the average lab size.
- Overall average class size at the graduate level also varies across TAMU schools and colleges: from the highest average class size of 31.9 students per section for Mays Business School; to the lowest average class size of 9.1 students per section for College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences.
- Average class size goes down as the course level goes up: 45.0 for undergraduate lower division courses; 35.0 for undergraduate upper division courses; and 15.3 for graduate level courses.

Notes:

- The report is covers on campus organized class meetings from a student's perspective as he/she experiences the class. Sections that meet together are counted as one class with a combined enrollment.
- This report is the proper source to use for class size studies.
